

NEWS
 Star Magazine
 Circulation 1,385,323
 April 19, 2004

Fashion Week Hits L.A.

Angie Harmon tries on jewels at the VIP fashion lounge at Smashbox Studios.

L.A.'s Mercedes-Benz Fashion Week drew all kinds of stylish stars. But it wasn't front-row seats they were catfighting over — it was the best spot at the valet. Sharon Stone insisted they park her car "so it's easy to get. I don't want to wait." Meanwhile, Farrah Fawcett forced her assistant to cut the line of 100 and demand her wheels. The rep handed over the keys and told the valet, "This is Farrah Fawcett's car." Enough said.

Hat-aholic Jared Leto squirreled his way into the Jenni Kayne show on March 30.

Farrah Fawcett and Alana Stewart ran backstage to congratulate designer Jenni Kayne right before her show.

Owen Wilson arrived alone (but cell-chatted with a pal) at Jenni Kayne.

Amber Tamblyn at the Petro Zillia show.

Gorgeous Lara Flynn Boyle skipped a Lakers game to see the Jenni Kayne show.